- Kids from poverty are often different •
 - Brains adapt to suboptimal conditions •
 - But brains can and do change everyday •
 - You can facilitate that change •
- Students can change, if you change first
- You'll have to let go of every single excuse you've ever heard of • You can

Many students from poverty won't make the effort unless they know we care. Data helps us find our areas of success and the areas in which we need to do better. It is key to our ultimately being accountable for what students are learning. Good data and accountability together can help the school system move in a positive academic direction.
